

NATION'S CRIME

The report noted that statistical reporting of crimes from local jurisdictions has improved in recent years but it observed that arrest statistics, for example, were submitted by agencies representing only 70 per cent of the U.S. population.

The report listed as factors affecting crime such conditions as economic status and mores of the population, weather, attitude toward law enforcement problems and "composition of the population with reference particularly to age, sex and race."

Hoover said that during the past year the 11 per cent jump in violent crimes was led by robbery, up 14 per cent; forcible rape up 10; homicide 11, and aggravated assault 8.

Property crimes also were up 11 per cent, with larceny over $50 up 10 per cent and automobile theft up 13 per cent.

The report noted that while 54 per cent of those arrested for larceny were under 18, this group accounted for 63 per cent of those booked for auto theft.

Of all offenses on the FBI's crime index, the report said, "auto theft had, by far, the largest percentage of arrests of persons under 18."

The report also included the latest material on the FBI's "Careers in Crime" study in which the bureau follows the activities of offenders who pass through the federal criminal justice system.

The report said a followup on nearly 18,000 such persons released by the federal system in 1963 showed 65 per cent were rearrested for new crimes within two and a half years.

Specifically, 47 per cent of those released on probation in 1963 were rearrested within 2 1/2 years. Of those paroled, 57 per cent were rearrested and of those released early for good behavior, 67 per cent were rearrested for new offenses within 2 1/2 years.

"A significant statistic was the fact that 83 per cent of those persons acquitted or who had their cases dismissed in 1963 were rearrested for new crimes within 30 months," the report said.

Hoover is a longtime critic of what he views as a lenient attitude taken by the courts toward suspected or convicted offenders.

Veteran Guide Falls to Death

DEAD HORSE POINT, Utah (AP) — Edgar Hayes, 59, veteran guide from Moab, Utah, was driving a group of eight tourists on a scenic trip through the southeastern Utah Red Rock Desert when they stopped to take pictures of the Colorado River twisting in hairpin curves far below.

Someone asked Hayes to pose on the edge of the cliff known as Dead Horse Point, named after a group of wild horses that perished here in pioneer days.

He walked to the rim, slipped on some loose rock and plunged 600 feet to his death.

Communication Blamed for NLR Squabble

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lack of communication was blamed Wednesday for a squabble over a "keep cool" anti-poverty program in Pulaski County.

William Walker, director of the Economic Opportunity Agency that sponsors the program, said after a one-hour meeting with North Little Rock Mayor W. F. Laman, who has highly criticized the program, that the mayor had a "genuine concern for the citizens of North Little Rock" and for the EOA programs there.

Laman had said that a recreational program supposedly being established in Negro communities by 36 youths hired by the EOA did not exist in his city.

The mayor had said the project, financed by a $100,000 federal grant, was a waste of money and he questioned the reasoning behind selecting youths who have been in trouble.

Walker said that approximately seven of eight of the 36 youths actually had been arrested, but that no one convicted of a felony could be employed.

Walker said the mayor had told him that many statements attributed to Laman were not his remarks.

Retired Sgt. Leaves $90,000

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — An Army master sergeant who retired after 40 years service has bequeathed $90,000 for poor and orphaned Armenian children in the Soviet Union.

Vartivros Tatossian, who retired in 1958 and died July 28 at Letterman General Hospital at age 79, stipulated in his will filed Wednesday that the money be handed to the Orthodox Catholic Church in Armenia.

Army officials surmised that Tatossian "just saved every penny he ever made."

Goldwater's Son Plans to Wed

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP) — Michael Prescott Goldwater, 26, son of 1964 presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, plans to marry Constance Jean Stockert of Sausalito next December.

Goldwater, a resident of nearby Mill Valley, is studying the real estate business. His fiancée, a stewardess for Trans World Airlines, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stockert of Shawnee Mission, Kan., a Kansas City suburb.

Cards Win, Chicago Splits Pair

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
A little extra work paid off for Tony Perez but it didn't do much for Philadelphia's corps of groundskeepers.

Perez, who had been having his troubles at the plate recently, tore out of his slump with two home runs and two singles, driving in four runs as Cincinnati ripped Houston 7-3 Wednesday.

The Philadelphia groundskeepers, caught with their tarpaulins rolled up when a sudden storm struck Connie Mack Stadium, worked an hour getting the field in playing shape only to have the rains return and wash out the Phillies' game against San Francisco.

"I have been missing the pitch I generally hit best," Perez said after helping the Reds beat the Astros. Perez' bread and butter pitch is the fastball and he took some extra batting practice against it Tuesday. The dividends came Wednesday.

His two homers gave him 22 for the season and three in the last two days. They helped Gary Nolan win his ninth game.

In other National League action Wednesday, New York topped Atlanta 5-1, St. Louis edged Los Angeles 3-2 in 11 innings and Chicago split a doubleheader with Pittsburgh, winning 6-0 and then losing 10-6.

In the American League, Boston clipped Kansas City 5-1, Detroit dropped Chicago 4-2, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 4-3, Washington outlasted Minnesota 9-7 in 20 innings and California blanked New York 7-0.

Nolan had a one-hitter until the eighth inning and survived some late-inning shakiness to beat the Astros.

Two Houston errors set up a five-run Cincinnati third, climaxed by Perez' first homer. He homered again in the sixth and singled Pete Rose home with Cincinnati's final run in the eighth.

The Mets bunched four runs against Atlanta in the first inning, giving Tom Seaver a comfortable cushion for his 11th victory. Seaver, the 22-year-old rookie right-hander, allowed just three hits after the fourth inning as New York won its ninth game in 15 starts against the Braves.

Wes Parker's throwing error gave the Cardinals their 11th victory over the Dodgers. Mike Shannon opened the 11th with a double and after walks to Roger Maris and Phil Gagliano, Ed Bressoud popped to Parker. When the first baseman's routine throw to the plate was wide, Shannon scored from third.

Lou Brock and Bressoud, who hadn't had a run batted in all year, homered for the Cardinals while Dick Schofield and Jim Campanis connected for the Dodgers. Campanis pinch shot in the eighth sent the game into extra innings.

Ferguson Jenkins pitched a four-hitter and became the National League's first 15-game winner as the Cubs topped the Pirates in the first game.

Jenkins struck out nine and retired 16 straight batters over one stretch. He also drove in two runs with a single in Chicago's four-run sixth.

Manny Sanguillen delivered a bases-loaded double that chased home three runs in the ninth inning and helped the Pirates to a 10-6 victory in the nightcap. Al Luplow had a three-run homer for Pittsburgh.

Senators Finally Win Long Game

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
You can try the patience of the Washington Senators for just so long—say 19 innings—and then they react.

The Senators lost to Baltimore 7-5 in 19 innings June 4. Eight days later, they hooked up with Chicago in the longest night in major league history in both innings (22) and time (six hours, 38 minutes) and won 6-5.

Then Wednesday, they got caught up in the second longest night game and won again, 9-7 over Minnesota in 20 innings.

"I'm getting used to it," was the joking reaction of Washington catcher Paul Casanova, who played every inning of all three marathon games, and won the 22-inning affair with a bases-loaded single.

"You never get used to them," said a happy, but somewhat more serious Gil Hodges, the Senators' manager.

"When you blow a seven-run lead with two out, something is wrong," said unhappy Minnesota Manager Cal Erner.

What was wrong were four straight singles and a homer. They came with two on and two out in the seventh inning and produced seven runs to tie the game.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit topped first-place Chicago 4-2, Boston whipped Kansas City 5-1, California blanked New York 7-0 and Cleveland edged Baltimore 4-3.

St. Louis nipped Los Angeles 3-2 in 11 innings, Cincinnati drubbed Houston 7-3, New York belted Atlanta 5-1 and Chicago split with Pittsburgh, winning 6-0 before losing 10-6, in National League action. San Francisco and Philadelphia were rained out.

Washington's Ken McMullen hit his 14th homer to give the Senators an 8-7 lead in the top of the 20th.

Washington added another run when Frank Howard, whose three-run homer climaxed the seventh-inning uprising, followed McMullen with a double and scored on Dick Nen's sacrifice fly.

Dave Baldwin then retired the Twins in the home half of the 20th for his first victory in four decisions as the sixth-place Senators climbed to the .500 mark and to within 6½ games of first place.

After six innings it had looked as if the Twins would move to within 1½ games of the top. They led 7-0 and Dave Boswell was sailing along on a two-hitter.

Then with two on and two out, Tim Cullen singled home two runs, and Mudcat Grant replaced Boswell. Mike Epstein singled, Ed Stroud's single brought in a runner and McMullen singled in another.

In came Ron Kline, and out went Howard's 29th homer for a tie game.

After Dick Lines got the Twins out in the seventh, Darold Knowles came on to limit them to three hits, walked two and strike out 10 in the next 10 innings before giving way to Baldwin.

Al Worthington stopped the Senators on two hits, striking out eight and walking two before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the 16th.

Minnesota used 21 players and Washington 19 in the game which took 5:40 to complete, tying it with the last June 17 Detroit-Kansas City game as the second longest night game in time consumed.

Detroit moved into third place ahead of Minnesota and just two games out by beating Chicago on Earl Wilson's five-hitter and the bat of Al Kaline.

Kaline supported Wilson, 15-9, with his 19th homer and a sacrifice fly. Detroit clinched it with two runs in the sixth on a sacrifice fly and an error.

Jim Lonborg flew in from Atlanta, where he is serving two weeks with the Army Reserve, to beat Kansas City and become the major league's first 16-game winner. He has lost five.

Jerry Adair drove in three runs for Boston, which replaced Minnesota in second place, 1½ games behind Chicago, and relief pitcher Sparky Lyle helped out Lonborg in the eighth when Kansas City scored its run.

Veteran left-hander Curt Simmons, purchased by California from the Chicago Cubs last Sunday, made his AL debut a success by scattering 10 Yankee hits and being tough in the clutch.

Jose Cardenal drove in three California runs.

Cleveland got its four runs in the fifth, two on a homer by Vic Davallilo and Sam McDowell.

Nicklaus Hits Tournament Scheduling

By JOE MOOSHL

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—National champion Jack Nicklaus, fresh from his victory in the Western Open last weekend, took a swipe at tournament scheduling as he prepared for the $100,000 American Golf Classic opening today.

Although next year's tournament schedule has not been announced, it was learned that Milwaukee has a $200,000 event on tap the second weekend of July in direct conflict with the honored British Open.

"That's horrible," said Nicklaus, that some pros would pass up the British to play in Milwaukee. "If I play any place, it'll be the British. It's time we grew up and recognized there's golf someplace else than just the United States."

Nicklaus, who is aiming at his first Classic title, isn't the only one complaining about tournament scheduling. Following the PGA in Denver, Arnold Palmer said he would never play in all four major championships if any were scheduled successively. If Palmer sticks to his word, he'll have to miss either the British Open next year or the PGA, the only major title which has eluded him. The PGA is slated for San Francisco the third week in July, one week following the British.

Nicklaus and Palmer, meanwhile, are among the favorites in this week's Classic, 72 holes of rugged combat over the huge Firestone course which measures 7,180-yards and carries a par of 35-35-70.

High on the list of favorites along with Nicklaus and Palmer is Al Geiberger, who won the 1965 Classic and last year captured the PGA played on the same course.

Top prize for the classic is $20,000.

Americans Take Lead in Track Meet

MONTREAL (AP) — The American track and field squad moves in to tonight's second leg of the Expo 67 Europe vs. American track and field meet with a five-point edge, but Coach Dutch Warmerdam of the American team figures his athletes will have a tough time maintaining the edge.

Warmerdam said after Wednesday night's competition he was "quite pleased" with the over-all performance of his team, but he had started to worry when his relay team dropped the decision by disqualification to four flying Frenchmen.

The all-U.S. side in the 400-meter event were knocked out by an infraction committed in the second leg of the relay race.

The Americans wound up with 79 points to 74 for the Europeans, taking seven first in the men's events and one of the women's. The Europeans took five first places in the men's and two in the women's.

$11,000 Is Given to a Lawmaker

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A freshman congressman has suggested a House ethics committee probe the personal use by Rep. Thaddeus J. Dulski of $11,000 raised at a testimonial dinner.

"Certainly this is a proper matter to be considered by the new committee set up for standards of conduct," said Rep. William L. Scott, R-Va. He said Wednesday he thought Dulski, for whom "I have nothing but the highest regard," would welcome such an investigation.

Scott was the only Post Office Committee member to suggest such a probe.

Dulski, a New York Democrat and chairman of the House Post Office Committee since last January, said he would "stand before a tribunal of any sort" to defend his use of the money raised at a September 1965 dinner.

The Wall Street Journal reported many of the contributors to the Dulski testimonial were leaders of postal unions, lobbyists and big-volume mailers, all directly affected by legislation drafted by the committee.

The Post Office Committee currently is considering a controversial postal rate hike bill. A subcommittee already has approved a cutback in the size of the administration-backed increase for third-class mail—so-called bulk or junk mail.

Dulski, 51, a fifth-term congressman, told newsmen: "I've done nothing wrong."

He acknowledged banking the money raised at the dinner, but said: "The invitations and publicity surrounding the dinner made it abundantly clear that it was intended solely as a personal testimonial to Mrs. Dulski and myself."

The Senate earlier this year censured Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., on grounds he made personal use of funds raised at testimonial affairs billed as campaign fund-raising events.

Walker Case Reinstated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal Judge J. Smith Henley conditionally reinstated Tuesday the case of James Dean Walker, who is serving a life sentence for the slaying of a North Little Rock policeman, after hearing oral arguments in his chambers on Walker's petition.

Walker, 26, of Reno, Nev., was convicted of first-degree murder Dec. 3, 1965, in Pulaski Circuit Court in the fatal shooting of Patrolman Jerrel P. Vaughan, 32, on April 16, 1963.

8 States Plan Action to Curb Rioting

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight Republican governors meet behind closed doors today to draw up a "state action program" aimed at curbing racial violence and rebuilding the nation's slums.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, citing an urgent need to "preserve law and order" in the cities, called the meeting of the policy committee of the Republican Governor's Conference.

A spokesman for Rockefeller said the program "is expected to include specific steps that can be taken by states in the fields of employment, job training, improving the physical environment of slums, crime control and expanding social and recreational services."

Staff representatives of the eight governors met here Tuesday "to go over the action program," the spokesman said. The governor's final draft is to be sent to the nation's 42 other governors for consideration.

Rockefeller, chairman of the policy committee, will be joined at the conference by Govs. George Romney of Michigan, John Love of Colorado, Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, John A. Volpe of Massachusetts and Nils A. Bos of South Dakota.

Rockefeller's office said he called for the GOP session after his attempts to convene a special meeting of the National Governors Conference failed.

Governors who said they were invited to the meeting but would be unable to attend included James A. Rhodes of Ohio, Claude R. Kirk Jr. of Florida, Ronald Reagan of California, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin.

Thinks State Democrats to Lose Again

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Democrats for Arkansas said Wednesday that Arkansas Democrats may be doomed to defeat again in 1968 if the party ignores its reform element and former Gov. Orval Faubus and Jim Johnson continues to fight for power.

The organization said in an article in the first issue of its quarterly publication, "Democratic Horizons," that the DFA might go to the Republicans again unless their own party changes its direction.

Jordan and Israel Talks in Prospect

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Talks between Jordan and Israel were reported in prospect today as Yugoslav President Tito sought to work out a Middle East peace formula with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Jordan's former development minister, Ismail Hejazi, told a reporter for the Jerusalem Post that Jordan would announce to the coming Arab summit conference its intention of negotiating with Israel.

Asked when plans for such talks would be made public, Hejazi replied: "within 10 days, perhaps, Allah willing." Hejazi is known to be close to King

Hussain.

Tito, flying to Cairo today, recently received a message from President Johnson. The Yugoslav president was reported to have worked out a plan calling for Israeli withdrawal from Arab territory it conquered in June and the guarantee of Israel's borders as they were before the war by the big powers or the U.N. Security Council.

Tito is generally regarded in Cairo as a "most acceptable peace mediator," and there are abundant indications that his mediation is also favored by Moscow and Washington.

Nasser told an Egyptian rally recently, that Egypt will "not slam the door to a political settlement," indicating that warlike action would be his last resort. But he stressed that the "struggle would continue," and that "we are no less determined than the people of Vietnam."

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by OMset

In Tel Aviv, Defense Minister Moshe Dayan told cheering Israelis at a political rally that Israel should not return to its 1949 armistice borders.

Dayan stressed that he was giving his personal views, then declared: "We must not allow other countries, acting in their own interest, to force us to return to the old situation. We will not return to the armistice agreements nor to their borders."

Jordanian officials in Amman reported the Israelis had delayed delivery of repatriation forms for Arab refugees who want to return to homes in Israeli-held western Jordan. But Israeli officials in Jerusalem said Israel has delivered 10,000 forms to the Red Cross for distribution.

The number of refugees in Jordan was estimated at 235,000.

GOPs Taking Offensive on Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Out-numbered congressional Republicans are taking the offensive in a bid to demonstrate they have politically salable alternatives to President Johnson's domestic and foreign programs.

With the presidential election 15 months away, GOP leaders in the House and Senate have launched a campaign to convince voters there is a Republican choice if they don't like the way Johnson is running the Vietnam war or coping with city rioting.

The action Wednesday by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen in picking up the ball quickly after a House Republican-Southern Democrat coalition rewrote the President's anticrime bill pointed toward a coordinated attempt to paste a Republican label on riot-curb legislation.

Dirksen's prediction that the Senate will go along with a House decision to let the states spend the anticrime funds—rather than channel them through the attorney general as Johnson requested—could be fulfilled only with Southern Democratic support.

In this instance Dirksen and House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford didn't seem to shun the presence in their camp of Dixie segregationists, with whom Quick-dreads the Itch. Antiseptic accans didn't want to associate tion kills germs to speed healthy ing. Fine for eczema, insect of pointing toward a quicker way of ending the Asian conflict than Johnson's limited warfare course offers.

Southern and some Western Democrats supported Ford's contention that vital military targets have been kept off limits to U.S. bombers.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said ports, power and petroleum targets could be hit without extending the war and risking Red Chinese intervention.

WIN AT BRIDGE
Confess Error, Get on with It
By Oswald & James Jacoby Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
If you make a mistake you have several ways to explain it. You can be frank and admit to a brainstorm or even a blackout. You can explain that you made an error in judgment or even that you took a wrong view.
We rather favor admitting the error and concentrating on not making it again.
South had a mighty sound no-trump opening and was fully justified in going to game after North used the Stayman two-club bid and then went to two no-trump. West opened the three of hearts and dummy's jack held the trick. The king of clubs was played from dummy and some 10 minutes later South had gone down two tricks. He might have saved one from the wreckage but once he went wrong in clubs he was doomed to defeat.
South complained about bad luck and conceded that he had taken a wrong view. Actually, he had made a mistake.
His only worry was if one opponent held three clubs. He didn't know anything about their distribution except that it looked as if West had opened a fourth best heart. The chances were, therefore, that West did not have a five-card suit. If he did not have a five-card suit he couldn't be void of any other suit. Therefore, West had at least one club and South should have led a club toward his ace.
Doesn't anyone ever lead fifth or even sixth best? Of course they do but not as often as they lead fourth best. We do sympathize some.

Q-I am a housewife, 67. When my elimination slows down I fill up with gas. Please don't advise me to take salts or castor oil because they make me sick.
A-I would not advise these or any other laxatives because they would increase your gas production rather than relieve it. That is because they sweep the food from your small intestine into your colon before the sugars and starches have had time to be completely digested and absorbed into your blood. In the colon they are met by fermentative bacteria. Gas is a product of fermentation. Worry about slow elimination, which is not harmful in itself, is probably the chief cause of your trouble.

Q-I am taking Mylicon for gas. What does this drug contain? Can it be taken indefinitely?
A-Mylicon is the trade name for simethicone. It is a defoaming agent used to relieve habitual air swallowers and persons with irritable colon or other conditions in which gaseous distention is a problem. There are no known side effects so, if it helps you, you can take it indefinitely.

Q-What causes my stomach to gurgle when I am in bed at night?

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Salts and Castor Oil Just Extend Gaseous Condition
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Intestines rather than your stomach. It may occur any time when a mixture of liquid and gas is swept along by the peristaltic waves in your intestines. Gas production can be greatly reduced by taking only enough vegetable and fruit each day to keep your stools as thick as the width of two fingers and firm. If your problem is colitis you will need expert management by a gastroenterologist.

Q-What is meant by funnel vision? Can it be corrected by an operation? What would cause it to occur in a child of 12? Could it be due to a concussion or to a hereditary defect?
A-I assume you are referring to tunnel or tubular vision in which one can see only what is directly in front of one and nothing out of the corner of the eye. It may be associated with advanced glaucoma, retinitis pigmentosa (both serious diseases) or a conversion reaction (sometimes called hysteria). For the first two there is no treatment and the treatment would not be by operation in any case.

In a child of 12 glaucoma is most unlikely. Retinitis pigmentosa is a hereditary disease that has its onset in childhood. A concussion in a person of any age may cause a conversion reaction. Treatment of this cause by a psychiatrist (not a psychologist) may be helpful but the results cannot be guaranteed.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

W.C. Fields, a Study in Bitter Comedy

One of the graphic arts' greatest gifts to humanity is the paperback book, cheap, small enough to shove in a coat pocket, and purchasable everywhere. Some of the boys in service in the Pacific in World War II to whom I shipped two cases of "Who Dunits" reported they shortened the war.

There are millions of paperbacks. Picking the subject matter isn't enough—you've got to judge whether it's a first-class treatment by a competent author. Pay no attention to the illustration on the cover—usually it's a case of the gaudier the picture the more wretched the text. Your clue to the quality of a paperback is the brief printing history which appears on an introductory page just before the story begins. This will tell you what big publishing company spent thousands of dollars to bring out the original hardcover edition—and how it fared, judging from the number of printorders.

In June I flew to Chicago for a technical meeting, and just before embarking at the Shreveport terminal I bought a paperback whose subject intrigued me: "W. C. Fields—His Follies and Fortunes."

The printing history showed that this was a 1949 copyright, and the paperback had gone through five editions. The original hardback publisher wasn't named, but this time it wasn't important, because the author was Pulitzer Prize Winner Robert Lewis Taylor and a condensed version had been published by Saturday Evening Post. The evidence showed it ought to be a good buy at 95¢—and it was.

The late W.C. Fields billed himself in vaudeville as the world's greatest juggler, and he was, touring the world for years with universal success. On stage and in the movies he intimated that he also was the world's great comedian—but on this score there's an argument. Fields detested Charlie Chaplin, but I merely report overwhelming public opinion when I say that while Fields was good he wasn't good enough to challenge Chaplin.

We remember Fields best for his bitter comedy roles portraying the cynical sideshow barker, or gambler. There was that special scene where a farmer with larceny in his heart lost his savings in a shell game, and Fields turned away with a leer and an exclamation: "You can't cheat an honest man."

His best stage show was the Broadway smash "Poppy," and his best film "David Copperfield" in which he played Micawber. But he is equally remembered for his pictures "My Little Chickadee" with Mae West, "Never Give a Sucker a Break," and "The Bank Dick."

Born in Philadelphia of a British Cockney father, Fields was plagued all his life by the fear of poverty—something he couldn't escape even when he had become world famous and definitely rich.

He had a comedy instinct that was one of the surest in the history of the stage, but an underlying bitterness hurt his public image and kept his pictures from making the money his comedy entitled them to.

That's the intriguing story of the late W.C. Fields—just another case illustrating the fine line that divides comedy from tragedy.

Youth on Bike Killed by Car

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—Wayland Hobbs, 11, of near Malvern was killed Wednesday when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car on Arkansas 84 about 1.5 miles west of here.

Jeff Davis, 53, of near Malvern, the driver of the car, told State Police that he was passing the youth when the boy suddenly cut over the centerline.

Turnback Funds $1.5 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Highway turnback funds amounting to $1,507,414 were given to state counties and cities by the state in July, the state Treasurer's office reported Wednesday.

General revenues distributed to both counties and cities amounted to $307,587, the report said.

School Administration Bldg. Open House

— Hope Star Photos By Donal Parker

Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. Open House will be held at the new School Administration Building, formerly the old Post Office. Everyone is invited. The building has been remodeled completely inside.

Open House Sunday at School Office

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, announced today that Open House for the new Administration Building (former old Post Office) will be held Sunday, August 13, from 3:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Special personnel that will be located in the new Administration Building are as follows: James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools; Jack Beaty, Assistant to the Superintendent and Director of Federal Projects; Dale Franks, Supervisor of Instruction; Mrs. Denver Dickinson, Elementary Supervisor; Mrs. Don Sullivan, School Nurse; Miss Gwendolyn Smith, Social Worker; Vander Lloyd, Home Visitor; Mrs. Jack Fielding, Secretary to Superintendent and Bookkeeper; Mrs. Billy Anderson, Secretary and Assistant Bookkeeper; Mrs. Joe Barrentine, Receptionist and Secretary.

Negro Officer Raps Black Power Leaders, Extremists for Riots

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP)—To a Black Power leader who says Negroes are ready to fight at home but not in Vietnam, a Negro colonel replies that thousands of Negroes are fighting here "and when we go home we'll have to live down the trouble he and other idiots like him have built."

The majority of American Negroes oppose the extremists of their race, said Col. David James Jr., 47, of Pensacola, Fla., a pilot with 56 combat missions over North Vietnam. "But we must speak out firmly against them and violence."

"Before, when the Negroes were on the receiving end of the mob, many whites were opposed but they didn't raise their voices to stop it. Now, we're doing the same thing."

"This thing got to me, the lawlessness—rioting," James declared in an interview. "Men like Stokely Carmichael acting as if they speak for the Negro people. They don't, and they've set civil rights back 100 years."

Carmichael says he will fight with guns. Well, who has the guns? You can't physically overpower the majority and if you could it would be wrong—it is just stupid."

Carmichael, former head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was quoted by a Cuban magazine Wednesday as saying that "if the people in the United States had

Nation's Crime Rate Up 48 Per Cent in the Last Six Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's crime rate rocketed 48 per cent in the last six years—with violent crimes soaring 11 per cent last year alone—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today.

In its annual report on U.S. crime, the FBI reported: —Since 1960, while the nation grew 9 per cent, the volume of crime rose 62 per cent.

—In the past year the per capita crime rate was up 10.2 per cent while the number of crimes rose 11.4 per cent.

—The number of serious crimes solved averaged 24 per cent, a drop of 8 per cent below the number solved the previous year. The percentage of crimes solved also dropped 8 per cent over the previous five-year period.

The report estimated that nearly 3.25 million serious crimes were committed in 1966, including an estimated 10,920 homicides. More than $1.2 billion in property was lost but more than half of this later was

Robert Hays, El Dorado Editor, Dies

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Robert T. Hays, managing editor of the El Dorado Daily News and Times since 1933, died at his home today after suffering an apparent heart attack. He was 65.

A native of Sedalia, Mo., Hays took his first newspaper job at El Dorado in 1922 and became managing editor 11 years later.

Hays' brother, William of Chicago, died earlier this week. Survivors are his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Oscar Suchs of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Bill Gleck of Little Rock; three brothers, Richard, John and James Hays, all of Chicago; three sisters, Mrs. James Hull of Chicago, Mrs. Joe Nowoy of Clarkston, Wash., and Mrs. Leo Coffey of Sedalia, and five grandchildren.

Rumph Mortuary will announce funeral arrangements.

Cuban Exiles Plan March

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban exiles said today they plan a "march on Washington" on Sept. 23.

On that date, foreign ministers of the American republics are scheduled to meet there to take up a Venezuelan complaint of aggression by the Fidel Castro regime.

Dr. Enrique Huertas, leader of the project, said the exiles "will meet in the capital of the free world to ask the governments of Latin America and the United States to approve . . . strong measures against the puppet Castro and his Russian bosses."

Strip Cities
in Future

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—By the year 2000, a sociologist says, the Eastern Seaboard, the southern shore of the Great Lakes and the West Coast will be sprawling "strip cities."

Dr. H. Theodore Groat, a Bowling Green State University sociologist, also said in a research project that population trends show that 5 of every 6 Americans will live in these urban chains by 2000—only 33 years from now.

Group Told About Street Program

A community action group for better streets in Hope, met at the local chamber of commerce office at 3 p.m. yesterday to hear discussions on the city's proposed $765,000 paved artery system.

Sixteen organizations sent representatives to the meeting, including Kiwanis, Rotary, Parent-Teacher Association, the Cotton Club, American Legion, Charities Club, Retail Merchants Association, Anna P. Strong Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Hope Civic Improvement Club, V.F.W., Junior Chamber of Commerce, Hope Benevolent Club, Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce and Hicks Funeral Home.

Steven Bader, Hope druggist, presided as chairman, and in his opening remarks declared that improved streets in Hope was vital and necessary for the future growth and progress of the city.

"We have come here today to hear first hand and in detail the city's proposed five-mile general tax proposal and other details of the eight-street paved artery system," Mr. Bader said.

He then called on City Manager Garland Medders to explain the program, and he was followed in a question and answer session in which Clyde Fouse, Donal Parker and Leonard Ellis of the city governing board participated.

The session lasted for an hour and half in which much of the program was explained. Mr. Bader then called upon the delegates to go back to their organizations and disburse information which they had gathered.

Mr. Bader also said other meetings would be held prior to the special election which will come sometime in late September or early October when the people will vote in a city-wide ballot for better or for worse.

The proposed artery system, studied by the city Planning Commission and City Directors for nearly seven years, calls for an approximate ten per cent increase in property taxes and an annual $5 automobile tax, to be retired over a period of 14 years or less.

The proposed artery system calls for new roadbeds, new curb and gutter, new storm sewers, an adequate lighting system, all designed to carry a heavy flow of traffic.

Newark Riots Cost Millions

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—P. Bernard Nortman, chief of the city's Office of Economic Development, said in a television interview Wednesday that $9.7 million in damage loss was incurred in Newark riots last month.

Pressure Keeping City Officials From Talking at Riots Hearing

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—The supply of policemen from riot-hit cities willing to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee is running dry. Some Capitol Hill sources feel hometown political pressure is responsible.

An aide to Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., whose committee is holding hearings on a House-passed antiriot bill, reported difficulty Wednesday in obtaining police witnesses.

He said the Detroit police commissioner, Ray Girardin, has not responded to repeated committee invitations to testify.

He further noted that Chief Inspector Harry Fox of the Philadelphia police canceled his scheduled appearance at the last minute and that Newark "was only able to spare us" a cellblock turnkey and a detective.

Other congressional sources said it appeared some local political leaders didn't want police officials to testify for fear it might be politically embarrassing.

While Eastland and some other committee members concentrated on getting a police view of the riots, others were determined to broaden the hearings to take testimony about economic and social causes behind the outbreaks of violence.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., a committee member, said people from the slums are high on his list of proposed witnesses.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Kennedy also have proposed that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, or someone designated by him, be heard after some police officials testified in the first week of hearings that they were convinced of a conspiracy behind the riots.

Hoover recently appeared before the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders and was quoted by the chairman, Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, as saying there was no evidence on which to base a conclusion of conspiracy.

Providence Plans Revival Meet

Providence Baptist Church, 10 miles south of Hope on Highway 29, will hold a revival meeting August 13 through August 20. Services will be held twice daily at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Clyde Johnson will be the evangelist, the Rev. Chester Daniels, pastor, announced. Harold Duke will direct singing.

Two Enemy Planes Are Shot Down

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Navy fighter-bombers shot down two MIG21 jets over North Vietnam today in the first dogfight in two weeks, the U.S. Command announced.

The command also announced that 40 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 36 were wounded when U.S. Army helicopters returned enemy ground fire in the Mekong delta nine days ago. It said the civilians were in a "large group" which was firing on the helicopters.

The Soviet-designed MIG21s, the most advanced plane in North Vietnam's air force, were brought down by air-to-air missiles fired by F4C Phantoms from the carrier Constellation.

The latest confirmed kills were the first since July 21 when Navy pilots from the carrier Bon Homme Richard downed three of the earlier model MIG17s. On July 27, U.S. pilots said they probably shot down a MIG21, but this was never confirmed.

The score now stands at 82 confirmed MIG kills for U.S. pilots and 20 American planes downed by the Communist interceptors in aerial combat over the North.

Field reports said the civilians killed and wounded by the American helicopter gun crew Aug. 2 were in a crowd of peasants returning from the rice fields and that a Viet Cong force mingled with them as it withdrew after overrunning a government outpost.

The U.S. Command said a "U.S. Army light helicopter fire team"—believed to number two or three helicopters—was supporting the militia outpost 70 miles south of Saigon and "received permission to return enemy fire being received from a large group."

In the ground war today, significant fighting subsided again after the fierce battle Wednesday between troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division and North Vietnamese forces in the Song Re Valley of the central lowlands, 330 miles north of Saigon.

The general lull in major fighting in recent weeks was reflected in casualty figures released today by the U.S. Command. American casualties last week—146 killed in action, 1,064 wounded and 14 missing or captured—were the third lowest in six months although a slight increase over those of the week before.

U.S. spokesmen reported 1,243 enemy killed last week, 160 less than the week before, while South Vietnamese spokesmen said their forces had 220 killed, 545 wounded and 40 missing, a sharp increase from the 76 killed, 368 wounded and 14 missing reported the previous week.

The latest MIG kills were credited to Lt. Cmdr. Robert C. Davis, 37, of El Dorado, Ark., and Lt. Guy H. Freeborn, 31, of Hart, Mich.

The Phantoms also carry a radar intercept officer who locks the missile onto the enemy plane. The two radar officers were Lt. Cmdr. Cayle O. Elle, 32, of San Diego, Calif., and Ens. Robert A. Elliott, 23, of Upland, Calif.

Defense Department sources said on July 17 that North Vietnam's air force had virtually disappeared from the skies. The latest intelligence information at that time indicated North Vietnam had only about 70 MIG jets left and that about half of these were kept in Communist China. Since then, five MIGs have been confirmed down, the three on July 21 and the two today.

DANCE BAN

Dear Helen: Our high school won't let us have dances. It isn't the faculty's fault, but the school board's. The board is made up largely of people whose religion says dancing is a sin, and leads to immorality. We of other religions feel that after games the gym should be used for recreation—and those who don't want to dance could play games. Instead it's closed up tight.

To show you how rigid our city fathers are, two years ago a respectable man wanted to open up a billiards parlor. One of our councilmen raised a storm about all the bad things that go on in pool halls (or did 50 years ago), and so another recreation went down the drain.

Our Youth Center is about to crumble. They won't let us have a bigger one because of dancing. I'm Student Council president for the next school year, and the kids have asked me to get them a dance for Homecoming. If I do, it will be the first dance in the school's 15 years of existence. Help will be appreciated. —STUDENT COUNCIL PRES.

Dear Pres.: If I agree with you—and I do—it may only make the school board more muley. But if you get a majority of parents on your side, they can bend the right ears—or pin them back—and you'll have your Homecoming Dance, plus other chaperoned recreation throughout the year. What's a game without a dance afterward? (Ask a certain prominent State governor who, some 35 years ago, led a student rebellion against his college's no-dancing rule—and won, after temporary suspension.)—H.

Dear Helen: Could anyone tell me who is the author of this verse. I found it in an old purse belonging to my mother.

Whenever life is at a lull
And all my future dark
And I'm convinced I'm dead
Without a vital spark . . .
One fact in life shines luminous—
That I in certain patches
Contain sufficient phosphorus
To make two thousand matches!
—KATY

Dear Katy: I don't know the author, but it's a comforting thought that somewhere within us we've all got what it takes to light up the world.—H

Dear Helen: Some people worry about the teenagers—my generation. They don't need to. At least not in the direction they are going now. Here's our side of the story.

We aren't a "Lost Generation." We are worse: we are the "safe generation!" Not hippies—the hippies aren't more than a few thousand out of millions. Oh, we talk hippie slang, and go for wild sounds and defend Timothy Leary as earnestly as if it matters. We read Ramparts and The Village Voice and use language that shocks our parents; and sometimes dress in hippie fashion.

But we don't really think that LSD and free love compare with money in the bank. We aren't rebels; we're as conformist as army worms. Security is our unspoken watchword. Most of our warchords are unspoken but we take to them as compulsively as a baby duck to water. . . . "Don't fight city hall"; "Get it while the getting's good"; "Don't get caught." High goals, these; great moral values.

'MOST BEAUTIFUL EYES' on the French Riviera was the title won by smiling France Lombard, 22, or so it was decided by Victorine Studios recently. The shapely blonde's eyes are a magnificent sea-green-gray.

But don't think we haven't got ambitions. Yessiree!—"Stall off the draft board"; "Marry and get her pregnant." "Get through college and line up a job well thought of by the draft board, say with some missile firm." Better yet, "Take graduate work."

All this is the truth, stated in unpretty language. But this is my generation, and I'd not change any of it.

Plato was the first to state that the young generation was going to the dogs. So it doesn't bother me to hear it now, about us.—KENNETH

Dear Ken: He who sees himself honestly has hope for change. Surely there's solid ground between hippie and slippery. May you search until you 'find it!' —H.

JOAN CAROL'S TV Notebook

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Carol Burnett sat in the living room of her Beverly Hills home and talked about Jim Nabors and other things.

Jim Nabors sat in the pool house of his hilltop Studio City home and talked about Carol Burnett and other things.

They are each other's greatest fans.

Which explains why Carol will be a guest when Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., returns to CBS-TV for the new season, and why Jim will be a guest on the premiere of The Carol Burnett Show on CBS-TV on Monday, Sept. 11.

"Last year Jim and I got an idea for a special," Carol said. "But we got it too late. So we put a show together and went on the road with it."

Portions of the show, which wowed audiences in Dallas during a two-week stand ("it was 2½ hours of just us,"

CAROL BURNETT
"We're like two amateurs on stage..."

Jim said), will be re-created on Carol's hour.

"Carol and I are so identical in our thinking," Jim said. "We're exactly alike."

"We have no discipline," Carol said. "When we're tickled about something, we're like two amateurs on stage, breaking up. It's so unprofessional to break up. We got the giggles rehearsing here one day, and Joe (Carol's husband, Joe Hamilton) got mad at us. We had to take a coffee break to settle me of Carl Reiner in the old Sid Caesar days. He can do any dialect. I need a good strong man to work with, to bounce off. I've been a fan of his ever since I first saw him on The Danny Kaye Show.

"We've also got this gorgeous man, 6 feet 4, with shoulders like Joan Crawford, who is going to teach me how to be a master of ceremonies. His name is Lyle Waggoner.

"We also hope to evolve skits based on recurring characters, something like The Honeymooners. We have an idea for skits based on the problems of raising a teenager. Harvey would be my husband, and a young actress would play my sister, Chris. But we don't know if this will work. We won't force it unless it takes off.

"Lynn Redgrave is going to be a guest. I met her at the Tony Awards in New York and there was that same chemistry between us as there was the first time I met Julie Andrews. I think we might spark something. We'll also have Sid Caesar lined up and Imogene Coca and Nanette Fabray. I feel like a kid with a candy store. I've always been star struck, and to have people in a production meeting tossing off these big names as my guests, WOW!"

Meanwhile, back in the Studio City pool house, Jim Nabors, helping his aunt prepare a dinner of barbecued ribs,

THE COSTUME LOOK is more important than ever in the fashion picture this season and today's Young Original has been artfully styled to keep the half-size woman looking her most becoming. Present a slimming and well-poised appearance in a basic sheath belted loosely at the natural waistline and add the hip-length jacket for a totally well-put-together ensemble. Your two-part silhouette with its accent on the vertical affords a variety of combinations to assure you of sporting the right look at the right time.

Each Young Original comes with its Own Fashion Co-ordinator providing an attractive assortment of accessory, fabric and color combinations.

B-78 with PATT-O-RAMA is in sizes 12½ to 26½, bust 33 to 47. Size 14½, 35 bust, dress, 2½ yards of 45-inch; jacket, 2 yards.

Send $1 for the above pattern to: YOUNG ORIGINALS (name of newspaper), P.O. Box 438A, Midtown Station, New York, N.Y. 10018. Print your full name, address, with zip code, pattern number and size. Add 25¢ for first-class handling.

was saying how glad he is that his series is moving to Friday nights, at 8:30, an hour earlier than it was telecast last year.

"I'm happier this year with our time slot than ever. The kids who like our show will be happier, too. Traveling as much as I have recently, you learn who your fans are. We have a lot of kids who love our show."

During a rare week off, Jim took his mother, who lives in Alabama, to New York for her first visit to the town. One evening Jim, his mother, and an actor friend went to the theater.

"Mother marched down the aisle on the arm of my friend, and the people in the audience were hanging on the rafters to get a look. She got to her seat and said, 'I wonder who everyone is looking at.' She looked around and spotted Mamie Eisenhower in the row in back of us, and told my friend that must have been the one everyone was staring at."

Jim's friend was Rock Hudson!

Peppy Meat Balls for a Hungry Crowd

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Meat balls with character, that's what these are. Made with ground beef, cooked rice, seasonings and bound with slightly beaten eggs, each one holds a cube of Cheddar cheese. They are cooked in a zesty tomato sauce, flecked with mushrooms. The rice absorbs the flavor of the meat and adds to the compact texture.

This is a perfect all-in-one meal for a crowd. It is a good suggestion for a Labor Day back yard or patio party, can be cooked indoors on the stove, then carried outdoors to the hungry guests waiting under the trees. No smoke gets in their eyes, just savory meat balls in their stomachs.

PEPPY MEAT BALLS WITH RICE
1½ pounds ground beef
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup chopped onion

MEAT BALLS for a one-meal dish.
¼ cup Parmesan cheese
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon garlic powder
12 cubes (¼-inch) sharp Cheddar cheese
Shortening or vegetable oil
2 cans (8 oz. ea.) tomato sauce with mushrooms
2 cups water
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon oregano
Combine beef, eggs, rice, onion, Parmesan cheese, salt, pepper and garlic powder. Mix well. Form into 12 balls. Insert a cheese cube in the center of each meat ball.

Brown in shortening. Drain. Blend tomato sauce with water, sugar, and oregano. Heat to boiling, add meat balls, cover, reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes or until done. Six servings. Serve with hard crusty garlic bread.

Guard Deadline Is Withdrawn

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Guard Bureau has withdrawn the Sept. 1 deadline by which Adj. Gen. Charles Wilson of the Arkansas National Guard was to have prepared a plan for the equitable distribution of troops under a unit reorganization plan.

A state Military Department spokesman said Monday the state could not complete its planning until the bureau finished developing a new troop list.

The spokesman said the department didn't expect the delay to have any great effect on the cuts in troop strength announced previously.

Arkansas is expected to lose 30 per cent of its company-sized units.

22 Arrested for Bootlegging

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — More than 22 arrests have been made in the last 60 days by county and Crossett officials in a crackdown on bootlegging in "dry" Ashley County, according to Sheriff B. A. Courson.

When they talk about a housewife's free time, they mean she does her work for nothing.

Long-haired boys in England say it makes them feel superior. To what?

Denham, assistant Extension Home Economist, conducted the workshop. Members participating were: Gloria Merrick, Jacqueline Staggers, Lovell Watts, Doris Armstrong, Aubrey Lee Watts, Sadie Merrick, Gralyn Doby and John W. Armstrong. Refreshments were served to eight members and one visitor, Elizabeth Sergeant, Chicago, Ill. Doris Armstrong, Reporter.

Junction City School Plan Submitted

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Federal District Judge Oren E. Harris of El Dorado accepted Wednesday a modified plan of desegregation for the Junction City School District after four objections by the federal government to the submitted plan were reviewed.

Judge Harris modified the plan to read that students in grades 10 through 12 should be given the right to exercise their own choice unless a choice was made by the student's parent. The government's objection to certain faculty desegregation points were settled when Judge Harris ordered the district include school bus drivers in the plan.

The district was also ordered to provide reports on faculty vacancies and transfers which the government has said the plan did not include.

Judge Harris overruled the government's objection to the school's plan for providing counseling for the students.

An attorney for the school district said that no federal aid funds were involved.

Judge Harris said the Junction City system is unique in that two states, Arkansas and Louisiana, share in its operation.

3 GIs Die in Korean Ambush

SEOUL (AP) — Three American soldiers were killed and about 15 others were wounded today in a North Korean ambush on Korea's western front, the U.S. 8th Army reported. At least one South Korean soldier also was wounded.

The victims of the Communist attack were riding in a truck in the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division area about 35 miles north of Seoul. The Communists hit the truck with grenades and opened fire from concealed positions with automatic weapons, the Army said.

Soldiers on the truck immediately returned fire and reinforcements were rushed to the scene to engage the attackers. However, Communist casualties were not known, the Army said.

The casualties were members of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division who were working in the 2nd Division area, the Army reported. The attack took place north of the Imjin River along the western portion of the Korean demilitarized zone, an Army spokesman said.

No other details were available.

Another American was seriously wounded and his scout dog killed in another North Korean attack earlier today in the 2nd Division sector, the spokesman said. He said an American patrol about 500 yards south of the demilitarized zone was fired on by four or five North Koreans who were about 200 yards north of them.

The distance between the two attacks was not announced. The 2nd Division guards 18½ miles of the 151-mile armistice line in the vicinity of the Panmunjom armistice village.

The attacks were the first major border incidents in the American sector since three Americans were killed July 13 when their position just below the demilitarized zone was overrun by a group of about 10 North Koreans. Fifteen Americans have been killed in five major border clashes reported in the American sector since last November.

Stinging Ants
Most ants do not sting, but some kinds do. Fire ants sting as painfully as wasps; the harvesting ants of Mexico can also sting very severely.

The Honeymoon Does End, Man Is Not Born to Eternal Bliss

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Pavement Plato:
"I am a young man of 24. Three weeks ago I married a beautiful girl I met at a fish fry in the Catskill Mountains. Since then our life has been one perfect song.

"Each morning my darling wraps in a love letter the chicken sandwich I carry to the office for lunch. She gets up early to write the letter before leaving for her own job.

"I am so happy that it makes the fellows I work with envious. They keep saying, 'You don't know what marriage is really like until the honeymoon is over.' Will you please tell me how I'll know when the honeymoon really is over?"

"Anxious Benedict:
Dear Benedict:
Shame on your cynical office friends. They should let you enjoy your happiness while it lasts.

For, alas, there is some truth to their remarks: All honeymoons do come to an end eventually, as man was not born to swoon in eternal bliss on earth. How can you tell when this happens in your case? Well, it happens to most couples in the same way. There are many signs. You can figure your honeymoon is over when—

She'd rather go into the living room and watch television than stay in the kitchen and watch you do the dishes.

You start a war with her relatives or she starts a war with yours.

With a chill sense of foreboding you make the disheartening discovery that, wonderful as she is in other ways, she can't concoct a potable martini.

No longer does she close her eyes when you kiss her goodby in the morning. Instead she grumbles, "You're musing my lipstick."

She decides it is hurting your manly pride for her to work, so she quits her job and tells you that you'll simply have to ask your boss for a raise.

Your lunch sandwich is wrapped in a newspaper—not a love letter—and it's made of baloney, not chicken.

You courteously ask her to please quit hanging up her stockings on the bathroom shower rod, and that starts a battle that lasts until 2 a.m.

You wonder if that pallid creature in hair curlers sitting across from you at the breakfast table is the girl of your dreams or just a leftover nightmare.

She begins finding fault with your disreputable bachelor pals, and one by one they disappear from your social life.

She tells you that your snoring is keeping her awake, and gets mad when you tell her that she snores, too.

Your bad habits she found so endearing when you were courting her, she now finds unendurable.

She no longer wonders if she should call the police and report you missing if you're more than 12 minutes late coming home from work.

Tearfully she threatens to go home to mother, but calls the trip off because there's so little money in the bank she'd have to hitchhike if she went.

Yep, those are signs the honeymoon is over, son. And that's a good time to start promising your bride what a grand time she'll have on her second one—if she can just hold out till your golden wedding anniversary.

Rockefeller Favors Four Year Terms
NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Wednesday that he favored a four-year term for governor, though he wasn't sure whether he favored a single gubernatorial term or a limit of two such terms.

The governor, addressing the 452 girls attending the Economics Opportunity Agency summer camp at Camp Robinson here, said that he would run again.

"I don't only think I'll run again, I've already said I will," Rockefeller said, adding, however, that he didn't run the first time for the salary.

Rockefeller said he and his secretary had done some figuring recently and had concluded that considering the number of hours the governor spends on the job, he was "not quite making the minimum wage."

The minimum wage is $1.40 an hour. The governor's salary is $10,000 a year.

Rockefeller told the girls that Secretary of State Kelly Bryant's refusal to accept the appointments of five Republicans to county election boards "couldn't bother me less."

Tuesday, Bryant sent the filing fee back to five persons because he said they had not been elected by a majority on the state Board of Election Commissioners.

Rockefeller said he had made certain rulings in last week's board meeting since he was chairman and if the Democrats wanted to challenge him they could take it to court.

"I think it's time somebody else put the question to the court rather than the poor governor," he said.

23 Jailed in Vietnam Election Plot

By BARRY KRAMER
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese police have arrested 23 Viet Cong terrorists and broken up elaborate plans to spread death and destruction in Saigon before the Sept. 3 national election, police sources said today.

Word of the roundup came out as seven of the 10 civilian presidential candidates refused to hit the hustings unless their military opponents assured them transportation and security.

One plot was said to have been aimed at the Joint U.S. Public Affairs Office in the heart of the South Vietnamese capital, and the adjacent Rex Hotel, a major American billet. The two buildings daily attract thousands of American military men and civilians, as well as Vietnamese at the nearby intersection.

Viet Cong documents captured over the past several weeks have called for intensified terrorism to disrupt the elections and a special group known as "killers of Americans" has been told to step up its work.

The call from civilian candidates for campaign vehicles and protection was voiced by Tran Van Huong, a former premier considered the leading civilian in the race.

"We will not campaign until we have final word from the government to provide transportation and security," he said.

Cepeda Fined for Words to Himself

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Orlando Cepeda, the first-place St. Louis Cardinals' leading run producer, said Wednesday night he drew a two-day suspension and $100 fine for what he said to himself, not plate umpire Stan Landes.

Cepeda was ejected in the first inning of Tuesday night's game with the Los Angeles Dodgers when he questioned Landes' strike-two call. The Dodgers went on to beat St. Louis 6-2 Tuesday night.

"I asked him (Landes) if I swung at it or if it was a strike," Cepeda said. "He told me he didn't have to take that from me. So I turned around to face the pitcher and said (the word) to myself. That's when he threw me out."

Cartoonist's Inventions
Thomas Nast, U.S. cartoonist of the late 19th and early 20th century, invented with his pen the Democratic party's donkey, the Republican party's elephant and Tammany Hall's tiger, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.
